BOVRIL DEFIES DISEASE.

The fact that over 500 British hospitals and kindred public institutions use and prescribe Bovril is sufficient in itself to prove that it fortifies the system against disease. As rats infest a dirty, unhealthy tenement, so disease will install itself in a deranged system and take a hold. Bovril shakes the grip when disease is there by making clean, healthy blood; the attack weakens, the microbes die, and Bovril is triumphant. But do not use Bovril only to expel; rather prepare your system against the attack of disease by using it to invigorate, and create clean and wholesome blood and organs. The result will please you.

BOVRIL is an energising and sustaining beverage, which by its merits has become a household word from one end of the world to the other. Just as the electric light has surpassed the rushlight of our grandmothers, so Bovril has surpassed the meat extracts and beef teas of a quarter of a century ago. It is the culmination of scientific achievement in the production of a strengthening, nourishing and vitalising food beverage. In health, Bovril is a shield against the effects of a muggy, humid climate; in weakness, a substitute for regular meals; and in sickness, the right hand of the doctor and nurse in their efforts to provide the patient with true nourishing food, readily taken, palatable, and digestible.

DIVING PIGS.—To Living Animals of the World Mr. J. Turner-Turner contributes a note respecting some diving pigs which, he says, live in an almost wild condition on certain of the islands off Florida, and subsist chiefly upon the refuse fish cast away by the netmen. To obtain this, the pigs dive under waves, walking on the land at a depth of 5 ft.

A DINNER AND SMOKING CONCERT
was held at the Kowloon Hotel on the 22nd Feb. as a result of a "Whist Match" played between the Accountant Branch and Engine Room Staff of H.M.S. Terrible. A very lengthy programme was successfully carried out and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. Hopkins occupied the chair while Messrs. Shepherd and Bendall acted as committee. The menu and attendance were all that could be desired and gave every satisfaction.

ASSAULT AT BANGKOK.—On Saturday evening, says a Bangkok paper of 10th inst., as two petty officers from H.M.S. Bramble were passing down the American Legation lane on their way to their ship they were set upon by a number of natives who came from behind a prachidee. There was a pretty brisk fight for a minute or two, the naval men defending themselves with sticks.
Eventually they were compelled to retreat steps to the New Road and there they met several foreigners to whom they related their experiences. The whole party then proceeded down the lane but the nakkings on their approach vanished somewhere among the Wat premises.

VICE-ADMIRAL GEISLER.—Shortly after ten o'clock this morning, says the Singapore
Free Press of 15th inst., Vice Admiral Bendemann lowered his flag on the cruiser Hertha
and Vice Admiral Geissler hoisted the Vice Admiral's flag, the German men-of-war in the Roads, and H.M.S. Fearless, the ship of the Senior Naval Officer, saluting. At noon Vice-Admiral Geissler landed at Johnston's Pier, being received by the Hon. C. W. S. Kynner-sley, C.M.G., and Capt. Craufurd, Master Attendant, and a guard of honour of the 30th
Co. R.A., under Lt. Thompson, Fort Canning saluting. Vice-Admiral Geissler then proceeded to Government House to make an

A TRAGIC END.—A Chinaman met with a tragic end in Bangkok recently. Whilst he was lifting a basket of aerated waters which had been left standing in the sun for some time one of the bottles burst. The bottom portion flew upwards and his jagged edge struck the unfortunate man in the neck, severing the jugular vein. He was carried into an adjoining shop and a doctor was sent for, but before the medical man could arrive the poor Chinaman had bled to death.

Rutter, M. W. Slade, F. Smyth, S. S. Takawanagi, A. Tillett, P. Witkowski, C. N. Young, etc.

The notice convening the meeting having been read,

The Chairman said—Gentlemen, the report and statement of accounts having been in your hands for some time past, we will, with your permission, take them as read. It once more affords your Directors much satisfaction to be able to lay before you the best record for any corresponding period. The amount available for appropriation, including $459,695.15 brought forward from last half year, is $1,094,895.02, and the Board recommends this amount to be distributed as follows:—That a dividend of 10 per cent. and a bonus of 8 per cent. absorbing $450,000 be paid to shareholders, a bonus of $20,000 to contributing shareholders, and one of $25,000 to the European staff;
that $155,988.36 be written off the value of Kowloon Docks, $23,787.07 from the Cosmopolitan Dock, and the balance, $420,119.59, to be carried to a new account. The expenditure on capital account, new building and new machinery during the past half year has been over $300,000, so, as we only write off about $180,000 out of the profits, we be advisable to increase the capital unless absolutely inevitable. It would be much better, in my opinion, if money is wanted, in the future, if we raised it by an issue of debentures. I was quite expecting, Mr. Chairman, that you would make one or two remarks about Mr. Gillies, our late manager. I understand that some representation—or, rather, some petition from a few shareholders had been made to the directors to reconsider their decision in regard to the present to be made to Mr. Gillies, which, in my opinion, was inadequate. I was not here when that was passed at the half-yearly meeting, otherwise I should have voted for a very much more valuable present. Some shareholders may say that Mr. Gillies is a rich man, and that he has no family to support, but I do not consider that that is any reason why he should be treated differently from others. Mr. Ede, of the Union Insurance Company was a rich man and had no family and he got £5,000. I think some such similar amount would be the very least recognition we could give Mr. Gillies for his long and valuable service to this Company. I have much pleasure in seconding the accounts.

The Chairman—Before proceeding with the adoption of the report and accounts, I should like to explain that the question of the presentation to Mr. Gillies will be taken separately at a private meeting to be held after this meeting is finished.

The motion was then put to the meeting and carried unanimously.

On the motion of Mr. H. Wicking, seconded by Mr. P. C. Potts, the appointment as directors of the Hon. J. J. Bell-Irving, Hon. C. P. Chater, and Messrs. H. P. White, G. H. Medhurst, and E. Godt, was unanimously confirmed.

The Hon. J. J. Bell-Irving and Mr. E. Godt, who retired by rotation from the Board of Directors, were re-elected, on the motion of Mr. G. M. Dann, seconded by Mr. E. W. Rutter.

Mr. Ho Fook moved that Messrs. T. Arnold and F. Henderson be re-elected and others.

Mr. C. N. Young seconded, and the motion was carried without opposition.

The Chairman—That is all the business, gentlemen; I am much obliged to you for your attendance. Dividend warrants will be ready on application at ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

THE HONORARIUM TO MR. GILLIES.
At the private meeting held afterwards it was resolved to present Mr. Gillies with the sum of £5,000. The amount voted at the last half-yearly meeting was $10,000.

THE A. D. C. SMOKER.

At the Theatre Royal, City Hall, on Saturday evening, the Hongkong Amateur Dramatic Club, of which we have seen and heard so little this season, gave a smoking concert, which was fairly well attended. The pit of the theatre had been comfortably set out with numerous small tables, at which the Connaught House Hotel supplied liquid refreshment, the circle being left as usual.

The Band of the Royal Welch Fusiliers, under Bandmaster Moir, opened the concert by a selection from "A Runaway Girl," which was well received. The songs of Messrs. Ardron and Hay were well received, but the audience seemed to be somewhat sleepy after the races and no very great enthusiasm was manifested. Mr. Dale received an encore for his violin solo and gave "Cavalier's Rusticana." Mr. Worster and Surgeon, Norris, R.N., the comic men, fairly brought down the house. A capital display of Indian club swinging was given by a squad of men from the Royal Welch Fusiliers, and they were forced to give an encore.

The programme was as under:—

PART I.
Overture..... "A Runaway Girl"..... Carall.
String Band of Royal Welch Fusiliers.
Song..... "Herdin Song"..... Somerville.
Mr. G. H. Ardron.

TIENTSIN DAY BY DAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

CHINA NEW YEAR.

TIENTSIN, February 8th.
Railways and postal services are stopped or disorganised for at least a week and everything is generally topsy turvy. Contrary to custom the weather is mild and bright. Generally at New Year it is very cold up here. Nothing of much moment has occurred since the wrecked audience, but I received a telegram shortly after it to the effect that the Empress Dowager had not only felt surprised at the Ministers allowing her to occupy the Throne during their audience, but at them allowing their wives and friends to accept her invitation. She was quite prepared to retire at the first audience had the Ministers desired it, but as they made no demer, and virtually addressed themselves to her, she felt triumphant confidence. With regard to the ladies she is said to have remarked "What fools those foreigners are; just a few presents and fair words and they will do anything." At the Ministers' Audience it is said the Italian Minister was the only one who did not back out of the royal presence, but after bowing and retiring a few steps he turned and left the room in the ordinary way. Public opinion here is a little inclined to pat the Italian Minister on the back accordingly.

Whether any influence has been brought to bear on the wretched Kung Hsu during the exile from Peking to complete his efficiency as a No. 1 idiot, who can say? but he appears to have returned in a far more developed condition of imbecility than he went, and it is possibly due to this fact that the Dowager has been recognised, as it is of course absolutely necessary for the Ministers to have some figurehead to deal with.

Nothing is yet decided either about the City or the retirement of troops, and everything remains as it has been. The Germans do not manifest any inclination or intention to clear out.

Yuan Shi-kai has been memorializing the Throne to employ foreigners in the Foreign Department, and only to give positions to Chinese who have travelled and understand foreign affairs, and not to employ men, in the Foreign Department at least, by rank or favour, but entirely for ability, and to give all the most important posts to men who hold foreign diplomas.

If all this is sincere it is good. But it is to be feared that it is all dust, and that secret orders are being issued all the time to make a great display of reform, but in reality do nothing; in fact I know that this is so. Na Tung has also memorialized for foreigners to be employed in the Revenue Department with the accounts, but whether this is a sincere suggestion or only made in order to show that the Court "does not fear" is hard to say. Na Tung and Jung Lu seem to be singled out for honours, the former now having been appointed Junior Vice-President of the Foreign Department Bureau.

An edict on the 23rd, 12th moon, or Feb. 1st, annulled the law by which Manchus and Chinese cannot intermarry, and gives free sanction to such marriages in future. It also advised the Chinese not to bind their daughter's feet so that intermarriage with Manchus might be facilitated. The Edict also ordered as many Manchus of 18, as possible to be sent abroad to study. This Edict will undoubtedly have a good effect on a large section of the public, who will see in it one of the most promising signs of progress. The object is not progress however, but to avert if possible the great rising against the Manchus which is bound to come some day unless intermarriage softens sentiment sufficiently to avert a crisis.

Another Edict of the same date orders 10,000 dollars to be brought up from the south to Peking, and put in circulation as an initial step to their general adoption as a convenient medium of exchange.

As you know, the question which affects Tientsin's future over and above all others is the River and Bar Improvement. Mr. de Linde, our local expert who is now engaged on the river, has just published a most exhaustive report on the more important portions of it. The funds required for the work are however somewhat startling. The cost of the necessary dredgers would not be less than £44,000, and the annual maintenance of the work at least £15,350,000, besides incidental expenses such as the experts' and surveying fees. With Tientsin City given back to the Chinese it is difficult to see where all this money would come from, as if we leave it to Chinese promise we shall have to wait as long in the future as we have waited in the past.

IMPROVEMENT OF TAKU BAR.

Mr. de Linde's report.

A report by Mr. A. de Linde, Engineer-in-Chief of the Hai-ho Conservancy Commission, has just been published. The following are the material passages:—

The Taku Bar is to the popular mind a little strip of shallow water situated some seven miles outside the Taku forts, and it is believed that steamers having once crossed this obstacle their troubles are at an end and they may go on freely.

This is quite correct, but the inference usually made, namely, that this place once deepened the difficulty is overcome, is erroneous.

Inside the bar the water for a very considerable distance is only a very little deeper than on the bar itself, the difference being merely a foot or less. In other words, in order to improve the bar to the extent of say 4 feet, it would require not only the deepening of what is now popularly called the bar, but a total distance of not less than four miles. Generally speaking the Taku bar is not one which is easily dealt with and more especially maintained, because, the outward slope (towards the sea) is very gentle, and it requires only comparatively small deposits to raise the bottom.

The question whether a sand pump dredger or a bucket dredger may be used, is, from a financial point of view of paramount importance and in order to solve this knotty point I took, during the year 1899, samples from various places in the channel of the Taku bar. These were submitted to manufacturers of sand pumps in Holland, and to one in England, both of whom were firms of the highest standing and of the widest experience. Samples were also sent to an American expert who has designed some of the largest and most successful sand pump dredgers in the world. The answers received were at variance with each other; the two manufacturers, who had been asked to guarantee a certain output in this kind of sand, both saying that the sand might be pumped, though only at a low rate of output, but they were of opinion that the sand submitted is too fine to settle rapidly in the hopper (barge) and they fear that a large quantity would pass over the side together with the water. The American expert positively asserts that the sand is suitable for sand pumps, if properly built and the hopper suitably arranged. Through the kindness of the French Government, Mr. Belleville, the Engineer-in-Chief of the Seine Conservancy, was allowed to report on samples of sand. The sand of the Seine is also very fine, though less so than that of the Hai-ho, and I print the very exhaustive and interesting report of Mr. Belleville.

[Mr. Belleville's conclusion is printed as follows:—

"My answer to the question submitted, viz: whether the Taku bar sand can be successfully dredged, is that the sand of the Hai-ho seems to be suitable for dredging, on the condition that special precautions are taken and especially that dredgers of specifications as given (in the course of the report) are used."

Some ten years ago the channel across the bar shifted, and it will be necessary to decide in which direction the outlet should be so as to get the greatest effect of the tide.

Mr. Lindon Bates's Opinion.

Before I submitted my questions to Mr. Belleville, Engineer-in-Chief of the Seine River Conservancy, I had previously obtained a report from Mr. Lindon Bates, an American engineer, who is probably the greatest living expert on the construction of dredgers. He has designed for the American, Russian, Indian and other governments the latest and by far the best dredgers ever built. The "Beta" used for the Mississippi bar at the official trial dredged nearly 6,000 cubic yards in one hour. More recently a larger suction dredger has been designed by Mr. Bates for the Russian government and is now at work on the Volga river.

Mr. Bates visited China during last summer and stayed at Tientsin. In conversation he expressed the opinion that it would be necessary to have one or two 18-in. or larger suction dredgers for the bar, which he, considering the nature of the bar, thinks would not require very much annual dredging to maintain a deeper channel.

A Favourable Report.

Mr. Bates's printed report (1900) to me is too long (23 pages) to quote in full. He says:—

"It (the bar) is a favourable subject for a simple dredging treatment. Many illustrious examples have firmly established the principle, that through such a bar a deep water channel placed in such a direction that the flood and the ebb current act so far as possible in harmony, if the depth be made sufficient to resist action due to wind and waves, will be nearly permanent and will maintain its width and depth, until there is a departure from the ordinary regime, which would be due in this case to prolonged gales from the exposed quadrant or freshets."

This agrees with the observations I have made, except that the effect of freshets on the bar is very small.

Mr. Lindon Bates recommends one or two 18-in. suction dredgers, the same size as Mr. Belleville approves of. The former estimates the cost (including repairs, maintenance, amortization, etc.) of running one 18 in. dredging plant at not less than Mex. $8,000 per month, taking American wages as a guide, which is rather high. Mr. Bates considers that floating pipes might during fair weather be used for charging the excavated material to the two sides of the channel.

My recommendation is that, if the necessary funds be available, an expert recognized as such by the engineering world, be engaged to visit the port. If this be not done, there will be endless discussion as to what ought to be done, and though such discussions, even by persons unacquainted with such problems, or engineers without any information about the questions at issue and the various conditions bearing upon them, may be useful, it is, I think, of great advantage to the furtherance of the work, that an authoritative opinion be obtained by an expert selected by the authorities and parties interested.

A. DE LINDE.

Tientsin, January, 1902. February 11th.

A mail closes for the South to-day and I shall be able to get this off. Last night an International Carnival was held in the Gordon Hall and proved an absolutely unique experience for Tientsin, if indeed anything like it has ever been attempted in China before. An effort was made to reproduce as far as possible the Carnivals of the Rhineland or South America and, had more space been available, the reproduction would have borne comparison. As it was however, in spite of limited space, a really excellent programme of mad rollicking fun was carried out. The sides of the Hall were divided into four sections, and allotted to the Germans, Italians, Japanese and British, who each decorated their section in their own style with the happiest results. The British was enclosed as a country inn, the house being most artistically painted by the clever hand of Col. Badfrow of the 4th P.I. The Germans got up theirs as a hunting tent, the whole being covered with skins and heads, a large tripod and cauldron in one corner, and occupied by a party of Viking hunters, whose long flowing hair, winged caps, skin coats, bare braced arms, shields and swords were splendidly carried out. The Italians had some charming music and singing in their section, Mrs. von Hanneken and her three charming sisters wearing Italian peasant costume and playing castanets and tambourines. The Japanese did not effect much beyond quaint suits of old armour. The costumes of the great crowd were a revelation for Tientsin and surprising, considering the difficulty in procuring either materials or tailors. After supper the battle of confetti and the march of King Carnival took place, and about two hours of pure mad fun took place, from the oldest to the youngest poking each other with the tons of tiny paper confetti which filled the air like snowflakes, while penny whistles, trumpets, catcalls, songs and drums added to the jovial pandemonium of two bands of native lands can hardly realize what the crazy merriment and noise of a carnival held in a small hall by about 400 can be, but it was very jolly and everything passed off without a hitch.

ly change their clothes and take a bath. I never knew a Chinese miner who did not. I never knew any other foreigner who did. In fact, I never knew one of the foreigners to take a bath of any kind, except by accident. The Chinese are the cleanest people in the world, except, perhaps, the English gentlemen who take their daily 'dip.'

"In conclusion, let me say I never saw a drunken Chinaman, I never saw a Chinese beggar. I never knew or heard of a lazy one. I sat as county judge of Grant County, Oregon, for four years, where the miners had sold out to the Chinese to such an extent that the large half of the mining properties was Chinese. Yet in all that time there was not one criminal case involving a Chinaman, and but one civil, and in the latter a white man was finally indicted by his fellow citizens for perjury."

The "wild cry" against the Chinese, we are assured, is simply a sensation, due to the newspapers, and there is nothing in this world so conscienceless and cowardly as the average American newspaper, except perhaps, the average American politician." Mr. Miller goes on to say:

"This outcry has widened and spread, until to-day there are few property-owners in San Francisco who care to have their real sentiments on the subject published. But I repeat that all the tax-paying and substantial citizens of our cities and the real laborers of our Pacific empire, from Alaska to San Diego, want and need these people with us, for, as Senator Morton said, they do 'the lowest work.' The man with a home, whether he has a little shop or a little farm, does not want his wife and growing children to cook, wash, and do chamber work, when he can get a silent and submissive little Mongolian to do it for a song. I tell you more: the real laborer on this coast is a Christian, and when he reflects that 'the little, brown man' is starving, starving for work, and that his people at home are literally starving for the dollar or two a week, which is all he asks when he first comes to us, why, this Christian man wants to open his home to him, and his heart, too, and give him work. We have, perhaps, the finest, best people in the world on this Pacific coast, the select of the republic, and we can keep this standard up, and even advance it, and do Christian good at the same time, by not only allowing but inviting the little brown men to come. For our ambitious and splendid white boy or white girl can not get on nearly so well at school if kept at home to do washing, do chamber work, and help mother to do what Senator Morton called 'the lowest work' about the house. The foreigner girl simply will not go away from the city and even in the city, if we except the Swede, German, and the like, she must have light work and heavy wages. My work as a teacher, talker at teachers' institutes, colleges, and so on, in the last four years, taken me into nearly every county in Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, and Louisiana, and I have nowhere heard one voice in favour of the Chinese exclusion act, but the contrary, at all times and places. The Chinese are particularly wanted in the great Southwest."

"I can count letters from women by hundreds, begging that this brutal act be not perpetuated. Our women here in this warm land are not so strong. They must have 'help,' and they can not depend on foreign white 'help,' and their daughters must go to school. 'Now a word about the 'hordes,' that are to 'overrun us.' Senator Morton estimated that we had about 75,000 Chinese in California. We may have that number now; we may have only half so many, but I think, at one time, we have had at least a quarter of a million. This was when the placer-mines were open to all, and the Harvard, Yale, and Princeton graduate shoveled dirt in the same gulch with 'John,' and found him a very quiet, cleanly little fellow, from the Oregon Sierras to the Sierra Madre. And when the graduate, the gentleman, got his claim washed out, he sold it to 'John' for gold and went home; and John sold it to his newly arrived cousin, 'on tick,' and went home also. Then the cousin worked the claim to the bed-rock and went home, too."

"So things went on till the first Pacific railroad was built, and when the last old claim was worked out, as a rule, the Chinaman went home. The quarter million of Chinese, without any restriction at all, had dwindled to about 75,000. Thus much for the 'hordes' that are to overrun us. How illogical that the yellow element of the American press should be forever boasting of American valor, and yet constantly warning us to beware of the 'hordes' of degraded Mongolians that are to overrun us."

THE SIGHTS OF NEW YORK.

FOLLY OF A COREAN PRINCE.

A States Journal says:—Seeing the sights of the Tenderloin in New York has cost Prince Eui Wha, second son of Eui Yi, Emperor of Korea, $30,000 more than he is able to pay; and he is now being sued in the District Court here for the recovery of that amount. It is secured by a promissory note, held by Wolf Brothers & Co., bankers, with branches in New York and Philadelphia, and as no money was forthcoming from the Prince, when the note fell due the law has been called in to make the young man pay for his fun.

Prince Eui Wha has lived in this country about three years and has shown a marked aptitude in picking up some of the ways of Western civilization. For the last three years the Prince has been a student in Roanoke College in Salem, Va., but it was recently decided that he should go through a course of Northern colleges.

He arrived in this city to-day. News of his financial difficulties had preceded him; and until the young man admitted that he owed money much curiosity was aroused as to the exact nature and circumstances of the suit. He showed a thoroughly democratic willingness to answer questions, however, and through his interpreter said that he had drawn on Wolf Brothers for $30,000. He says that he blew it in seeing the sights in New York and has no regrets.

NOTICE.
THE SECOND VOLUME of BOX'S EXCHANGE TABLES with Rates in 1/16ths from 1/10 to 1/160 down to 1/160, is now in the bookbinders' hands and will be published next week. These Tables, which run in columns of 100, from 1/100 down to 1/160, and from 1/160 down to 1/160,000, will be published in 10 columns, the user to arrive at the value in Dollars of any sum in Sterling under £1,000 by simply adding the equivalent of the Shillings and Pence to that of the Pounds; or to get the value in Sterling of any sum of Dollars and Cents under $1,000 by adding the equivalent of the Cents to that of the Dollars. By these simple means of computation a very considerable saving of time and trouble, besides securing a ready means of proving accuracy is secured, as is illustrated in the following examples. To reduce £879.17.11 into Dollars at Exchange 1/10 1/16 = 59,571. 671 whereas with the other exchange books the process would be as follows:—
£800. 0. 0 = $8,702. 573
70. 0. 0 = 761. 473
9. 0. 0 = 97. 904
17. 0. 0 = 9. 247
11. 0. 0 = 0. 497
$9,571. 671
or to convert the dollars into sterling at the same rate of exchange:—
$9,000.00 = £827. 6. 8
571.00 = 52. 9. 11
671 = 1. 2. 13
£879.17.11
but by other books it would be:—
$9,000.00 = £827. 6. 8
500.00 = 45. 19. 3. 4
70.00 = 6. 8. 8. 6
1.000 = 1. 10. 1
600 = 1. 1. 3
70 = 1. 9
£879.17.11

Every care has been taken in compiling these Tables to insure their accuracy and even as the book was being printed the last impression of each sheet was taken and carefully rechecked by two separate persons and any little errors in reading which will crop up in such works as these are carefully corrected in each copy before it is issued, thus making it a most accurate and useful book. Subscriptions for this and the previous volume may be sent to the Daily Telegraph Office, Price 50 per copy. Hongkong, 10th February, 1902. [172d]

OWING to the insufficiency of accommodation in the present building and the increasing demand for admission, it has been found necessary to extend the wings of the main building and to enlarge the Chinese department by an additional story with two wings. To cover these expenses we appeal to the liberality of all friends of Education. The establishment has been in existence for the last 25 years and is open to all classes. Much of the clerical work of the city is carried on by its pupils. As this is the first time we have applied for assistance, we expect a generous response.
